RollingStone

“The non-profit Blues Kids Foundation holds annual Fernando Jones Blues summer camps, where students as young as eight or nine years old hone their chops.”

This experience is presented in-part by: Mary Barnes Donnelley Family Foundation · Allstate · Columbia College Chicago · LeFort-Martin Fund · Tom Liebman · Facebook/Network for Good
D'Addario Foundation · Chicago Public Schools · Knotty Luxe Arts Foundation · Jim Dunlop · Chicago Federation of Musicians (Local 10-208) · PERT Foundation · Rotary Club of Chicago · Dr. Grace Dawson
Chicago (IL) Alumni Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Incorporated · Dr. Grace G. Dawson · Navy Pier · Chicago Community Trust · DCASE · Blueniversity of Chicago · Bobbie's Screen Printing

Presented by the Blues Kids Foundation and their Blues Angels, Fernando Jones' 2024 Blues Camp International Tour is free for all Blues Kids to participate. Local, national, and international Blues Kids 12 to 18 years old are welcome to attend any of our Blues Camps. All they have to do is simply pass their online or in-person audition. Then they will be placed into a band based on their age and skill level with like-minded others. We practice the art of learning, playing, and performing the Blues by ear. Our instructors are highly trained/qualified and internationally traveled.

Placement is for beginner, intermediate, and advanced-level vocalists and instrumentalists. All instruments are welcome. Your Blues Kid will be immersed in America's "Root" music through the lens of structured ensemble instruction, team-building activities, field study trips, and public concert performance presentations. Details for all Blues Camps throughout the year can be found at BluesKids.com/EarlyBird.

Blues Kids Foundation uses Kennedy Center ArtsEdge Standards. Blues Camp has been successfully established on college campuses and performing arts centers in America, Asia, The Caribbean, and Europe for the last 15 years.

Blues Kids Foundation is an IRS recognized 501(c)(3) nonprofit charitable organization. Thanks for making us your charity of choice. If you'd like to become a strategic partner contact us at: Info@BluesKids.com or call (779) Blues-Me.
